Democrats Ready For July Primary

143 Candidates on the Randall County Ballots in July

The Democratic party in Randall county is ready for the July primary, according to statement made Tuesday by County Chairman Alfred M. Smith. The County Executive Committee met Monday, drew for places on the primary ballot, and assessed the candidates whose names will appear on the tickets. Candidates must pay the fees for a place on the primary ballot on or before June 25th, or their names will not appear on the official ballots.

The Democratic voters will be confronted with the largest array of candidates in the history of the state. The state ticket contains 73 candidates. The district and county will add 70 more candidates, making a total of 143 names which will be printed on the official ballot and from which the voters will be required to make a selection. In addition to that the prohibition referendum will appear on a separate ballot. It is reported that a number of counties have declared against submtting this question to the voters, as all of the expense for handling the ballots would be a charge against local candidates. The committee in Randall county has asked the state committee for further information.

Those who hold the elections this year will be paid $2.50 per day. Heretofore they have received $3.00 per day.

Assessments were made against candidates for various offices as follows:

Sheriff and Tax Collector, $40.
Treasurer, $25.
County and District Clerk, $40.
County Judge, $30.
County Attorney, $25.
Commissioners, $20.
Justice of the Peace, $5.
Constable, $2.
Hide and Animal Inspector, $2.
District Attorney, $25.
Candidates for Congress, State Senator and State Representative, $1.00.

The county receives nothing from the state candidates, as they pay $100. each to the state executive committee, making the county and precinct candidates bear all of the expense of the elections in the various counties.

Uncle Sam is Not Looking for More Help

Are you looking for a government job?

There is no such animal, and the Civil Service Commission warns the public not to be deceived about Coaching Schools which make vague promises at securing government jobs.

Uncle Sam is in about the same position as other industries—not taking on new help at this time. These coaching schools are frauds in most particulars, and the public is warned not to be deceived.

Dr. Hill And Family Greatly Enjoying Trip

Dr. J. A. Hill and his family are greatly enjoying their trip to the East. Upon leaving Canyon, they went to Austin where President Hill presented his budget for the two years to the State Board of Control.

The Hills crossed Arkansas, stopping briefly at Little Rock, and when last heard from were in Tennessee where they are visiting several cities and places of historic interest.

They will arrive in Atlantic City about June 26. Here Dr. Hill will represent both the West Texas State Teachers College and the Texas State Teachers Association at the meeting of the National Education Association. Washington and other points will be visited during the trip, the party returning through the middle west with a stop in Ohio where Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Lang and family will be visited.

President Hill will return to Canyon about July 10th.

Nearly Half Inch Rain Added This Week to Moisture

A rain of .33 of an inch last night together with .15 of an inch Monday afternoon constituted the rains which fell in Canyon during the week. Heavy rains, accompanied by hail, fell in various parts of the county during the past week, but no damage by hail was done in the Canyon vicinity.

Taxpayers League Looking Over Budgets in County

Committees representing the Randall County Taxpayers League are at work this week looking over the budgets of the schools, city and county with a view of making a report to the meeting of the League on Friday night.

Budgets have been adopted by the three local governments and these are being examined by local citizens with a view of making further reductions, if possible, or re-adjustments in the estimated expenses of the schools, city and county during the coming year.

Local officials are assisting in every way possible with the problem of making the lowest possible budget for the coming year. The difficulty which is confronting these officials is to estimate the amount of taxes which may be collected during the coming year. If the officials knew the amount of taxes which may be collected, it would be much easier to make a correct budget.

PARK OFFICER PRAISES PALO DURO CANYON

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SURPRISED AT ITS BEAUTY.

Interested in Making National Park After Visit Here—Official Investigation to Follow.

Much attention has been directed toward the Palo Duro Canyon, within the past week as a result of the visit to Amarillo last Thursday by Horace M. Albright, Washington, director of the National Parks System. Mr. Albright was surprised to learn of the magnitude of the Palo Duro Canyon and its interesting possibilities as a national park.

Before his departure to Carlsbad, where he was to inspect the Carlsbad Cavern, he promised a group of Panhandle citizens a definite inspection of the canyon with a view of establishing a national park here. Mr. Albright and his 13 year old son, were guests of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast in Amarillo Thursday morning. Ray V. Davis, Dean R. P. Jarrett and J. B. Ellis-ton were Canyon representatives at the breakfast.

Mr. Albright declared that he would order the official inspection to be held possibly this fall. He promised to arrange his plans for a personal visit to the canyon at his earliest convenience.

Expressing amazement at the magnitude of the Palo Duro and its marvelous beauty as portrayed in the photographs exhibited by Mr. Davis, the parks official said he regretted that he had not learned more of the place before making his present itinerary.

He stated that were the Palo Duro Duro Canyon acquired by the national parks system it would necessitate only a temporary investment on the part of the government. He said this was true in the case of Carlsbad Caverns which already has paid for its original investment and is now earning more than the cost of upkeep.

Commenting upon Mr. Albright's visit to Amarillo and his proposal to conduct an official inspection of the Palo Duro, the Star-Telegram and Amarillo Daily News have carried the following editorials:

The Palo Duro Park Project.

(From The Star-Telegram)

"For years an informed few Texans have been mentioning occasionally the existence of a scenic region in the extreme northwestern part of the State whose beauty is excelled by few such spots. They have suggested at times that the region be organized into a national park, and thus take its place among the galaxy of beautiful play areas administered by the Federal Government for the benefit and pleasure of citizens. Citizens of the region centering about Amarillo and including other cities of the Panhandle have been

Non-Negotiable Checks Are Not Subject to Tax

The local banks received a communication this week from the Treasury Department, Office of Collectors of Internal Revenues, of Dallas, in which it was stated that non-negotiable checks drawn on a special counter form provided by the banks, and presented in person to the cashier, would not be subject to the 2c government tax imposed by the government. The check, however, must not contain the words, "Pay to the order of" etc.

The letter says in part: "If an instrument is not negotiable and is in form and effect a receipt and does not contain instructions with words "Pay to the order of," etc., or similar language and is presented in person, it is not subject to the tax."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CLEARS $200 ON MUSEUM FUND MINSTREL FRIDAY

Money Raised is Part of Pledge Made by Chamber Several Years Ago—Entertainment Was Prepared In Two Weeks Time Under Direction of J. B. Fowler, R. A. Terrill and C. W. Batchelder.

Added to the funds already collected, a few cents over $200.00 was made on the Museum Fund Minstrel of the Chamber of Commerce held in the College Auditorium last Friday evening. This money is not new money into the amount necessary to raise, but will go toward paying the pledge of the Chamber of Commerce, which was made several years ago.

The pledge of the Chamber of Commerce was made with the provision that a certain amount of it be paid each year until the total was paid in full. No provision was made in preceeding years and it has become necessary for the present officers to raise the money for the pledge.

Actual expenses incurred in staging the minstrel were $26.65. When the expenses had been paid a balance or better than $200.00 remained from the door receipts and the advertising sold on the programs.

J. H. Cox, Jr., chairman of the committee sponsoring the minstrel to raise funds, said concerning the minstrel, "As chairman of the committee designated to stage the minstrel, I wish to express the appreciation of this committee for the splendid cooperation received. From every one who was called upon, we received a ready response to help in presenting the show.

"The time spent in preparing the minstrel was less than two weeks. This of course, made it necessary for quick response and willingness on the part of those who assisted us. This we greatly appreciate."

Concerning the cooperation of those who assisted in putting on the minstrel, T. C. Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce made the following statement:

"The Chamber of Commerce appreciates the ready response and whole-hearted cooperation received in putting on the minstrel. To the press, the Canyon News, Amarillo News and the college paper, we express our appreciation for the wonderful publicity given us. Also the WDAG Radio Station was kind enough to make an announcement regarding the minstrel for a number of days before it was given. This all helped to make it the success it was.

"To all those who took part in the minstrel we appreciate their work and efforts. It required much work on their part. And to every one who in anyway helped to give the show, we express our thanks."

Playing before a well filled house, the Museum Fund Minstrel proved to be the comedy attraction predicted for it.

The minstrel was directed by J. B. Fowler, assisted by R. A. Terrill and C. W. Batchelder.

3c Postage Not Effective Until July 6

Our mistake!

Oscar Hunt's postoffice will not put into effect the new hike in postal rates until July 6th.

In reading of all the other tax hikes, which became effective June 21st, The News last week overlooked the fact that the new postage rates were not effective until a later date. Therefore, you may continue to mail letters at 2 cents each until July 5th, after which these letters will require 3 cents.

Mrs. A. Alexander Dies At Home Here Tuesday

Mrs. Alma Alexander, 31, wife of James Alexander of Canyon, died Tuesday afternoon, June 21, at her home here following a short illness.

Mrs. Alexander had been a resident of Canyon but a short while, coming here with her husband and baby about two months ago from Beeville, Texas. She was born in Collins County, Texas, September 10, 1900. She was a former student of the West Texas State Teachers College.

The body was shipped to McKinney, Texas, Wednesday, for burial.

Mrs. Alexander is survived by her husband; her seven months old son, James Ashby; her father, J. C. Highsaw of Clearlake, Texas; a brother, J. L. Highsaw of Memphis; and four sisters, Mrs. J. W. Hobbins, Boling, Texas; Mrs. Carrie Walker, Clearlake; Mrs. Alice Huston, Houston and Miss Myrtle Highsaw, Memphis.

HARD HAIL HITS IN THE TULIA TERRITORY

Geo. W. Cox was showing Tuesday the results of a hail storm which had hit at his farm west of Tulia Monday afternoon. He lost 1400 acres of wheat, when hail stones as large as hen's eggs fell. The balls from bois d'arc trees were cut in two. The chimney on his house was blown off, screens bursted, and tin roofs badly damaged. The mules on the Hale ranch were beaten by the hail until their noses bled.

Miss Oma Wilson is studying toward her M. A. degree in Physical Education at Greeley State Teachers College, Greeley, Colorado this summer.

Museum Fund Is Growing Daily

Sheffy Hopes to Complete $25,000 by First July

"Splendid progress has been made the past week with the Museum building fund for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society," stated Prof. L. F. Sheffy this morning. Mr. Sheffy has been devoting a great part of his time to the raising of the fund, which he hopes to complete by the first of July.

"The architects are working on the plans, and it is hoped that these will be completed by the first of August, so that the contract may be let not latter than the middle of August," continued Mr. Sheffy.

The building fund is not all subscribed, and new donations are being sought. It is necessary that every subscription be paid in full just as quickly as possible, according to Mr. Sheffy, as no contract may be made until all of the $25,000 is deposited in the banks, and ready for disbursement by the State Board of Control. Mr. Sheffy feels confident that the fund will be completed, and hence the directors of the Society last week authorized the architects to proceed with the plans.

The $1,000 subscription made last week by the Panhandle Bankers has been received by Mr. Sheffy. He is calling upon all who have made subscriptions to turn him the cash by the first of July, in order to ascertain just how much more money it will be necessary to raise.

Mr. Sheffy and T. D. Hobart, president of the Society, worked Monday in Amarillo, and received a number of new subscriptions. Mr. Hobart is devoting a large part of his time to the Museum fund, and has sent to Mr. Sheffy many subscriptions during the past few months.

Hail Storms Wipe Out Much Wheat

Nearly Quarter of the County Hit Saturday-Monday

Two of the most destructive hail storms ever to hit Randall county came Saturday afternoon and Monday afternoon, covering almost the northwest one-fourth section of the county, according to reports made by farmers from that section.

The hail Saturday afternoon started south of Wildorado, and extended as far south as Umbarger, covering a large section. The hail stones were very large, and wiped out nearly all of the wheat in the pathway of the storm, according to reports. Nearly two inches of rain fell, starting at Vega, and extending over most of the section visited by the storm. The wind was very high.

Another hail storm hit Saturday afternoon, sweeping from the northeast and covering a large section of the country. In the Amarillo territory the rain amounted to nearly two inches in a period of only thirty minutes. The hail extended far into Deaf Smith county, states A. J. Walker, who was at his farm 16 miles northwest of Hereford. His wheat was destroyed by this hail, and his wheat north of Umbarger was hit by the hail storm of Saturday. He states that the flood of rain covered the entire section, and filled lakes which have had no water for several years.

John Wilson stated Monday that his crop was entirely wiped out by the Saturday hail. Chickens and turkeys were killed by the hail. Gardens were entirely destroyed.

Many other farmers who have been in Canyon report partial or almost entire loss of crops.

No rain fell in Canyon Saturday, and only .15 of an inch Monday.

Hail was reported in the south part of the county Monday afternoon, with a heavy rain.

THE BANKERS GIFT.

The gift of $1,000 by the Panhandle Bankers to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum building fund has created more favorable comment than any gift so far. Bankers are usually considered hard personages with whom to do business. They demand to know the investment is worth while before they are willing to place their money. Olin E. Hinkle, editor of the Pampa Daily News, described the scene when the bankers voted unanimously to make the gift as follows:

These are unbelievable days, with extraordinary sights—for example, the scene in which Panhandle bankers gave away a "grand" and rejoiced in doing so. Some of them were actually husky with emotion as they voted $1,000 toward the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum fund.

* * *

There was no opposition. B. E. Finley of the resolutions committee presented the proposal as a recommendation. T. D. Hobart explained the need for matching the state's $25,000 or forfeit the appropriation on July 1. Then red-faced, jovial H. E. Hoover of Canadian, chairman of the museum building committee, took the floor. He resurrected the spirits of the Mayflower party and tried in vain to learn their names and histories. He said that the pioneers of this section, their work, their equipment, would likewise be unknown in a few generations if historical societies did not perpetuate their memory.

Prof. L. F. Sheffy, field secretary of the society, said that if the museum were built it would be the first of its kind in Texas, a state of tremendous historic lore. The museum will be built. About $2,000 remains to be raised, but everybody interested knows that H. E. Hoover and T. D. Hobart would not stop short of the goal now. Contributions, however, are still necessary to complete the $25,000 fund, the raising of which under present conditions has been a monumental task.

* * *

The dominant figure in making the gift to the museum was that sturdy old pioneer of Panhandle banking, J. C. Paul. He made the motion and spoke in favor of it. He made it $1,000 without stuttering and without hesitation. The action of the bankers was peculiarly thrilling to the entire audience, and left all feeling that something genuinely worthwhile had been done.

THE BONUS ARMY.

Various opinions and expressions have been recorded as to the ex-soldiers who have marked on Washington in an attempt to persuade congress to pay off the bonus at this time. Most of the American Legion Posts passed resolutions expressing disapproval. Military discipline which has been maintained, and the conduct of the ex-service men while in Washington, has done more to drown approval of the bonus army than anything could possibly have done.

The Plainview Herald, edited by Captain Herbert Hilburn who wears the distinguished service badge for bravery during over-seas service, expresses an opinion, which is more and more being felt by Americans in the following editorial:

What do you think of the bonus marchers?

That question has been frequently asked The Herald—so frequently that we will here answer it.

When the bonus marchers first started converging on Washington The Herald viewed the proceedure with a feeling akin to disgust. It looked like a lot of tomfoolery.

But soon the bonus marchers had demonstrated that they were not a bunch of hoodlums, vandals and trouble-makers. The old spirit of discipline and respect for authority which Uncle Sam had instilled in them back in the soul-stirring days of 1917-18 was asserting itself. They were orderly. They did not molest.

About the worst thing that you could say about them was that they were poorly rationed—the commissary department, if any, wasn't functioning very well; they were destitute and were practically objects of charity or public wards, so far as food and clothing and shelter was concerned. They mooched transportation, in some instances.

It looked, too, as if they were fighting a losing battle in their efforts to get Congress to pass the cash payment of the bonus.

But what is this large group of veterans, who have succeeded very well in weeding out the trouble-makers, but a gigantic lobby? Who would forego any citizen the right to contact his Representative, his Senator in the interest of legislation which he believes is needed? Such clean contacts are indeed lobbying and no one can object to the term lobbying, by reason of corrupt practices.

An official or an attorney of an oil company is in Washington lobbying for the passage of tariff on importations of oil or against a tax on gasoline and lubricating oil. About the only difference we can see between that lobbyist and the bonus marchers is that one is pushing a white shirt front up to a white table cloth in the Willard hotel at meal time and eating broiled mountain trout, while the other is eating "what have you" as he tramples the mud flats of the Potomac River.

They're just simply different kinds of lobbyists.

So it will be Hoover and Curtis again, with a lukewarm prohibition plank, which is intended as a vote catcher. The Republicans are hoping that the Democrats will make the same mistake as four years ago and nominate Al Smith or some rabid anti-prohibitionist. If the Democrats will nominate the right kind of a leader, the party will win this fall, as Hoover is not the kind of a man that the people of America are wanting at this time.

General Chas. Dawes is predicting for the first time that the bottom of the depression has been reached, and that conditions will begin to improve. His prediction is that improvement will start with the small business firm, and will gradually spread to all phases of business. All of the small towns of America are hoping that the General is right.

John L. McCarty and family of Dalhart were here Friday on their way home from Mineral Wells where they had attended the annual meeting of the Texas Press Association.

You may be thankful, in one instance, that Canyon does not have free city mail delivery. If the city had this service, it would cost 3 cents for every letter mailed for city distribution after July 5th. As it is, the 1 cent rate will continue.

STATE CANDIDATE HERE.

Judge R. B. Hood of Weatherford was in the city Friday. He is a candidate for Congressman-at-Large, and is making an intensive campaign over the state.

GOOD ADVICE FOR A SAFE FOURTH OF JULY

This year most of the nation will celebrate the Fourth of July with a three-day holiday. Such a long period for recreation is awaited eagerly by us all. Yet its unusual length doubles the hazards and danger to which we will be exposed.

Independence Day is known as the worst accident day of the year. This year may break the tragic record unless everyone guards himself closely and observes all safety rules. A list of "dont's," all excellent advice, has been prepared by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters and follows:

If you drive your car—Drive Safely:

1. Don't drive recklessly—it's a long holiday and there's plenty of time.
2. Don't take out your car unless it is in first-class condition.
3. Don't drive on the wrong side of the road—keep to the right.
4. Don't drive too long without resting—mental lapse due to fatigue causes accidents.
5. Don't pass other cars unless you have a clear view ahead; don't cut in and cut off trafic lines; don't pass or fail to slow down at intersections.

If you go swimming—Swim Safely:

1. Don't attempt marathon races by swimming too long or too far.
2. Don't venture out into too deep water if you're not a strong swimmer.
3. Don't swim away from the crowd—"In unity there is strength."
4. Don't indulge in ducking others or in frightening weak swimmers or children.
5. Don't lie too long in the sun—sun poisoning is injurious and can be fatal.

If you celebrate with fireworks:

1. Don't hold lighted firecrackers in your hand or throw them close to others.
2. Don't explode fire-crackers near combustible materials.
3. Don't celebrate with guns loaded with real cartridges or shot; fire-crackers and toy cap pistols are dangerous enough.
4. Don't fail to treat injuries, even the most minor ones, immediately and intelligently. Tetanus poisoning works slowly but surely.
5. Don't get too close to a display of fireworks—premature explosions occur.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

With the British Open Cup on His Mantel, and in the Well-Known Pink, Little Gene Sarazen Is All Set to Copy Jones and Snag the Three American Titles

BY PHILIP MARTIN

ONE of the grandest little guys in the golfing universe—and where doesn't it extend?—promises to be the next grand slam king of the fairways. You know him well—Gene Sarazen.

Back home now with the highly-prized British Open championship mug, 'a trophy that for years has been American property, the little guy is resolved to take 'em all. He can't be the same kind of grand slam champion that was Bobby Jones, but he can be the next best. He can knock off the National Open, then follow it up with the Western Open and the P. G. A. titles, which will equal Jones' conquests in quantity, if not in quality.

Somehow, I can't help thinking everybody will be pleased if Gene goes through to win the four championships. He's one of the most likeable figures in the royal and ancient game.

* * *

TEN years ago out at Chicago's Skokie links the talk centered largely around Hagen, Barnes, Jones, Diegel, Vardon and Ray in the National Open championship. Suddenly, out of a clear sky, little Gene popped in with a 288 score, the second lowest National Open score up to that time. Immediately, there was a rush by the reporters to learn something of this new champion.

They learned that he was 21 years old, that he was a lad of Italian parentage, born in this country, that he was only a few years out of the caddy ranks and that he had won the greatest American golf prize in his third attempt.

All efforts to analyze Sarazen's style were balked. Gene didn't know himself. He just stepped up to the pill, waggled a couple of times and smacked it. He followed the same principle a few weeks later in winning the P. G. A. championship. But the reporters had aroused Gene's curiosity. He began to wonder what made him good. He pulled his swing apart, studied it and tried to put it back together. It wouldn't fit.

Gene Sarazen, above, winner of the British Open championship and one of the most likeable fellows in golfdom, figures to cop the National Open, Western Open and P. G. A. titles.

During the better part of five years Sarazen went along in a haphazard way, winning a tournament here, losing one there. He was still a good golfer, but nothing like the youth who triumphed at Skokie. Then almost as suddenly as he popped up in 1922, he started to click again. Once again the world was right with Sarazen.

* * *

THE British Open was the one championship that had eluded Gene in 10 years of campaigning. He had finished second to Walter Hagen in 1928, the closest he had come to the title. But this year was a new one for him. He went into intensive training for the event.

You've probably thought that a golfer trains merely by playing golf. Not so Sarazen. He mapped out a definite routine that included long walks, practice periods every day in which he did nothing but swing a club weighing 30 ounces in order to strengthen his hands and wrists, play on windy, rainy days to acclimate himself to the blustery English weather along the channel, and lastly kept on a strict diet. He took off about 20 pounds in this program of exercise and diet. When he sailed for England he was as hard as a piece of steel, and as finely tempered.

It was a success, as you well know. And now Gene is convinced it will be the means of his winning a grand slam in golf.

Misses Addie Money and Marthie Scoggins visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephens in Plainview this week.

Misses Ida Rowan and Laura Wiggins will leave this week to attend the summer normal at Clarendon.

B. T. Preslar left for his home in Florence Tuesday evening. He says that unless his mind changes he will move here this fall and improve his Happy property.

John H. Bell, in town yesterday, says he will get some wheat and maybe pretty fair oats. The oats he rather expects to cut twice. His brother, J. E. Bell, of Winesville, Illinois, is expected to come down this week.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Commercial Club last week the proposition of a college for Canyon City as submitted by Rev. H. H. Thoren of Le Mars, Iowa, was considered and the president and secretary were requested to write Mr. Thoren informing him that the club was ready to take the matter up with him at any time and would be pleased to have him visit us again as he suggests.

The arrival of all the machinery for the electric light and ice plant is expected in a few days. The location has not yet been positively determined upon, but it will be somewhere near the railway tracks. J. Frank Smith has been appointed manager and the company, try as it might, could not have selected a better or more competent man in the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coffee went Saturday on a visit to Mrs. Coffee's parents, the McCartneys, about four miles north of Amarillo, returning home Tuesday. Carl says that on Monday evening a big rain fell there extending as far this way as within eight miles of Canyon City.

Geo. Hutchings has returned from his visit to the "Old Kentucky Home."

MISSION STUDY CLASS DISCUSSES PHILIPPINES

The Mission Study class of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon at the church for a lesson on the Philippine Islands, its people and climate, led by Mrs. C. R. Burrow.

It was pointed out during the lesson that of the 7,083 islands in the group, only 1,095 are inhabited. When the territory was taken over by the United States in 1926, there were six million people there, but population has now increased to twelve million with 87 different languages spoken by the natives. Because of the business depression some missionaries have withdrawn from the country and those who remain, both Catholic and Protestant, have consolidated their work in teaching Christianity by precept and example, winning 2,500 students of the colleges into the Christian faith in recent months.

It was also brought out in the lesson that some of the residents of the Philippines wish to have an independent government, while many still look to the United States for help and protection from surrounding countries.

Flying Mare vs. Automobile

Don't let them kid you! The twelve men packed in the tonneau of this car aren't asleep, even though they have confidence in the hurdling prowess of Silver-Gold, owned by Ole Graham of Hays Kan. BY THE FOUNTAIN
By Peggy Caldwell

Your eyes can speak
Of strange and far-off lands,
Of youth and love and music,
And moonlit desert sands.

Poor eyes speak
And I see-not you—
But a dashing cavalier
With soft, slow-curving smile
And a heart that laughs at fear.

If I would listen when your eyes speak,
Oh, the things they'd say!
Until, if I believed them,
My heart might be swept away.

Your eyes smile
And I smile back at you;
Although I'm certain all the time,
The things you say aren't true!

You can judge a man's standing by whether he dodges taxes, automobiles or subpoenas.

W. T. Math Teacher Coached Captain Of U. S. S. Akron

Twenty-one years ago a young math teacher who is now well known in W. T. and the surrounding territory, coached a boy, who is known all over the world for his entrance into the Navy school at Annapolis. This teacher was Miss Edna Graham, and the boy is now Commander C. E. Rosendahl of the U. S. S. Akron.

Recently Miss Graham received an interesting letter from him. At the time the letter was written, Commander Rosendahl was stationed in Lakehurst, New Jersey.

In his letter, he says, "My service in the navy has been more than interesting, and it hardly seems possible that I have been in the navy 21 years now.

"My duty in airships has been particularly fascinating. There have been moments of despair and triumph but all intensely wonderful to me. Needless to say, I wouldn't swap my present duty in command of the Akron for any other I know of."

Twenty-one years ago Commander Rosendahl finished four years of high school mathematics taken under Miss Graham at Cleburne, Texas.

THE OIL PRICE HIKE

"Oil is back to a dollar a barrel in the mid-continent field now, and if events of the past few months indicate anything the price of a gallon of gasoline will reach a dollar before the Christmas holidays," a writer in Editorial Digest suggests and gives it as his idea that the major oil companies plan to stabilize the price of a barrel of crude oil and a gallon of gas at one dollar each.

It may be better if all industry operated that way, one can hardly tell. However, a south Texas printers' association secretary made the way oil companies jump over each other to meet the increases, look rather stilted when he took a news story of a gas price hike and made it read:

"For the second time in the past month prices of letterheads in Houston were increased Tuesday when Magnolia Printing Company initiated an increase of 50 cents per 1000, and Texas Printing Company, Gulf Printing Company, Sinclair Printing Company, Consolidated Printing Company met the raise. The Humble Printing Company will meet the increase Wednesday, it was announced by officials."

Printer don't do that kind of thing of course, each always being anxious to demonstrate to all and sundry that he "can print cheaper than anybody else because his over head is lower." But the possibilities are there just the same. Printers and many other businesses have been operating on the red

Harter's Birds Are Making Good Contest Record

At the close of the eighth month of the Fifteenth Texas National Egg laying Contest which is being held at College Station under the direction of the Agricultural Department of A. & M. College, Ralph Harter's Australorps held an enviable place in the contest.

Mr. Harter has two pens of 10 birds each entered in the contest. At the end of May, an Australorp was high hen to date, and one of the Australorp pens was fourth high pen. Mr. Harter has two pens of Australorps, 10 birds each entered in the contest. They are the only chickens of that breed entered.

One of Mr. Harter's entries was also third high hen for May with a grade of 30.15 points. The high hen for the month received a grade of 30.25 points.

It was stated in the contest bulletin that production during May was the highest of any month during the contest except February. During the eight months the high hen has produced 219 eggs. The 350 hens entered in the contest have produced 7,853 eggs during the past eight months. The contest closes November 1.

This Year You Can Dress Well Cheaply

SPORTS CLOTHES, FOR USE ALMOST ANYWHERE, WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS AND PRINT FROCKS ARE BEST BETS

BY HARRIET

THE nicest thing about clothes this summer is the fact that they succeed in being good-looking at such small prices. Your pocketbook is really surprised at the things it can purchase without receiving a noticeable dent.

But remember you are paying for your chic in the discrimination you use in choosing colors, fabrics and patterns that are becoming to you, and suitable for the occasions on which they will be worn. Sports clothes are the best bet, as a rule. They are cool and lovely for spectator sports, afternoons, street wear. This term has grown until it covers a fairly large portion of your wardrobe.

White pique skirts are a splendid buy. They can be laundered easily. Worn with frilly white organdy blouses, dashing striped blouses that follow a black and white motif or go in for red and white stripes, they give you a sense of excitement and carefree nonchalance that does wonders to hot weather spirits.

Just as many frocks are breaking into print as have done so in other summers. Some of them tell a conservative story, and others are more sensational.

The number of frocks that tie themselves together with smart bows is surprising. This note, which is intriguing because it is so decidedly feminine, gains in smartness when used on an otherwise tailored costume. Gay scarfs have a way of enlivening quiet costumes, also.

FOR afternoon wear, whether you are shopping, watching a tennis match, golf tournament, or yacht race, or merely making calls, you will have a more interesting time if you choose a tailored linen suit, on the order of the one pictured here. You will find it in any color that is becoming to you. Pastel shades, however, are a little cooler and lovelier for hot weather wear. This suit has a short jacket that is belted at the waist, and fastened with a row of white buttons which run diagonally across the front of it. A trim white blouse whose collar fits snugly over the jacket collar, and whose bow ties across the chest, makes the costume more attractive.

This print, which comes in navy and white, or brown and white crepe, is worn with accessories that carry out the same color scheme. The neck is round, the sleeves are short and full, resembling the carpelet style, and the huge bow at the neck depends on its stripes for its charm.

Brewer Neal Is Making Fine Record

Government Employee to Be Only Ones Given Such a Chance

Brewer Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neal, who is enlisted in the Fifty-eighth Squadron, Brooks Field, and recently transferred to March Field, California, is making a remarkable record in his tryouts for the Olympic team.

A clipping from a recent Los Angeles newspaper shows Neal finishing second in the one-mile run, which was won by Frank Lydic, 1931 junior national champ. Time given was 4 minutes, 25.2 seconds. It was one of the fastest mile runs of the Pacific Coast this year.

A clipping from the San Antonio Evening News says, regarding Neal's transfer to the coast for training in the Olympic tryouts:

"It is very seldom that an enlisted man of the United State Army is shown this privilege and courtesy that the war department has shown Neal, and he states that he is doing all that he can to show them that they did not grant him this special favor for an 'empty cause.'"

At the recent Taft Relays Neal made the two-mile run in record Coast time of 9:21.4, and was awarded a silver trophy for winning first place and setting a new time mark.

It appears as though he is slated to enter the 5,000-meter run in the Olympic try-outs at Long Beach, July 2.

EARLIEST ANTIQUE CRAZE

Philadelphia.—That residents of Ur of the Chaldees collected antiques 400 B. C. was apparent when Leonard Wooley, archaeologist reported that he had discovered two well preserved Sumerian objects of 2400 B. C. in a house that was not erected until two hundred years later.

Rev. E. C. Dowd Speaks Saturday To W. T. Students

Rev. E. C. O'Dowd, who is conducting a series of evangelistic meetings here under the auspices of the Church of Christ, was the speaker at the College assembly hour Saturday.

Rev. O'Dowd showed to his audience that the Bible contains within its covers, statements which agree with the important facts in the realm of science. He said:

"There is not a single fact of science which is in conflict with any statement of the Bible. I ask your teachers in the field of evolution to name a few of the practical benefits that we will have to give up when we reject the theory of evolution. I do not oppose the teaching of science in the schools, but what I condemn is the teaching of theories for facts."

The talk of Rev. O'Dowd was much appreciated by the students and faculty who listened to him. His meetings at the tabernacle have been continuing through this week with a very large attendance.

L. N. George Says—

There are 227 students in school this summer who have never attended W. T. S. T. C. before.

There is still another group made up of married folks in which the family lives in Caynon or a nearby town. The husband or wife goes to school while the opposite spouse takes care of the family.

We are about 300 short of what I estimated would be the normal turn out from the long term students and the 1932 high school graduates. I am wondering if the same thing that keeps them out this summer will keep them out this fall.

Up to a certain place "poor crops mean good schools." But there seems to be such a thing as poor crops and poor prices making the going to school impossible.

The Ex-Student Association is hoping to help make every student in school this summer a missionary for W. T. It has a number of forces at work and is banking on the good citizens of Canyon to help make the stay of these teachers so pleasant and profitable this year that they will continue to come back for further work so long as W. T. S. T. C. can give it.

WHAT OTHER PEOPLE THINK.

Russian dumping is sufficient reason for immediate organization of an economic United States of Europe.—Edouard Herriot, ex-premier of France.

Music is the meat and drink of the people. I will lead street bands, I will give free concerts, when this depression prevents folks from hearing music they must have.—Leopold Stokowski, conductor, Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

Industry has as a rule given labor a grudging, insufficient wage, keeping it down by child exploitation, by suppression of legitimate organizations, and by other expedients, while at the same time huge fortunes have been amassed for the favored owners of the resources of production.—Bishop William Anderson, Methodist Episcopal church, Boston.

We must come, for a time at least, to the six-hour day and the five-day week and we must come to it by law.—Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

We shall take no steps antagonistic toward the Soviet government unless Russian agents meddle with internal affairs in Manchuria. If our efforts here are impaired by outside influences, we shall have to check such influences at once.—General Shigeru Hondo, commander of Japanese troops in Manchuria.

CITATION BL PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Randall County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. J. Donovan, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Randall County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Canyon, Texas, on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1932, the same being the 1st day of August, A. D. 1932, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 22nd day of June A. D. 1932, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 1340, wherein Florence Donovan is Plaintiff, and J. J. Donovan is Defendant, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

Plaintiff sues for divorce, alleging that she has been for a period of more than twelve months prior to the filing of this petition an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in Randall County, Texas, for more than six months next preceding the filing of this petition; that plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on or about September 1, 1914, and continued to live together as husband and wife until about May 1st, 1916; that plaintiff during said time treated her husband with kindness and forebearance; that on or about May 1, 1916, defendant left and abandoned plaintiff and has never returned but has permanently abandoned her for more than fifteen consecutive years. Plaintiff alleges that defendant was guilty of excesses, cruel treatment, and outrages toward her, such as to render their living together insupportable; that shortly before he left plaintiff he slapped her and her two minor children to plaintiff's great grief and humiliation. Plaintiff alleges under oath that the residence of defendant is unknown to her and prays for citation by publication.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Canyon, Texas, on this 22nd day of June, A. D. 1932.

CANYON CITY CLUB NEWS

Tulia settled herself more firmly in first position in the League by handing the Club a sound drubbing in Sunday's battle, held on the Club's home course. Canyon won only four and one-half points out of a total of fourteen. Six wins out of twenty matches was all the home boys could save from the wreckage. R. Tucker of Tulia shooting a 67 was low scorer for the day, followed closely by Cavet who turned in a 69. The home boys played good golf, eight turning in scores under eighty, but that was not good enough to off-set the ten that Tulia made.

Jimmie Gamewell handed in a score of 73 for low score among the Canyon boys; Jimmie placed eight balls out of bounds for penalty strokes which would have given him a 65 had he kept all in bounds.

The team missed Donnell, Savage and Knighton in Sunday's play, they being unable to attend the match.

Secretary O. W. Gano says the back nine will be playable within a few days. Players at the Club say they did not fully appreciate the back nine until it became unplayable from the recent rains.

Fishing has not been so good for the past two or three weeks. The water has been too muddy according to Isaac Walton Knighton.

Tulia is leading the League followed by Clovis, Plainview, Canyon, Hereford and Happy. Canyon and Hereford are tied for fourth place.

Gano closed Jim Clayton out on the 19th hole Sunday for the longest match of the day. Gano says he likes to win but does not like to take so long about it.

The social committee has definitely decided that there will be a Club picnic at the Club, July 4th. It is expected of all members that they attend and as usual dinner and supper is to be the main outdoor sport of the day. Details have not been worked out but the decision to come early, have dinner and supper, play golf or loaf has been decided on.

Why wouldn't it be a good time for the much postponed women's tournament to be played July 4th?

Murray Resumes Duties After Year's Leave

C. A. Murray, associate professor of mathematics, who has been on leave of absence since June 1, 1931, is back. Mr. Murray has been taking a straight math course at the University of Texas working toward his Ph. D. in mathematics.

Part of Mr. Murray's work at Austin has been in the field of pure mathematics. Last summer he took three courses for credit and audited two; during the first semester of the long session he took four courses for credit and audited two.

Mrs. Murray, who received her B. A. degree from W. T. last June, was a substitute teacher in the Austin Public schools.

Librarian Returns From Year's Study To Resume Work

Miss Mary Louise Anderson, assistant librarian of the college, returned here June 8, after receiving a B. S. degree in library science at the University of Illinois. Miss Anderson received her B. A. from W. T. in 1930.

While at the University of Illinois Miss Anderson was a member of the Library School Club, an organization of students in the library and members of the University library staff.

Miss Anderson's degree there counts as one half of the work on the M. A. degree, since two years work is required before the granting of a Master's degree. The Library School at the University of Illinois is one of the oldest and highest ranking institutions of its kind in the country, ranking along with the schools n the Universities of Michigan, California and Columbia.

According to Miss Anderson, one of the most interesting features of her work in the University was the tours taken to the libraries of various universities in Illinois, California, and Ohio. Public libraries in the cities of Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Ind., were visited and studied. Miss Anderson was particularly interested in the luxurious library of a Jewish institution in Cincinnati, in which is housed, in a large, ornate room with a ceiling of figured bronze, the finest collection of material relating to the Jewish race to be found in this country.

The University of Illinois library, which contains, and is particularly proud of, a rare Italian collection is one of the best in the north or Middle-West. The unique feature of the University's library is the "browsing room," a sort of cozy corner for weary students.

Miss Anderson, inasmuch as she is peculiarly interested in the field, did special work in the reference library. "I hope that my work there will enable me to be of profit to, and to serve with a greater advantage, the students of W. T.," she said.

There were seventeen students from Texas registered at the University, to whom the students were particularly pleasant and sociable. One of these Texans was Miss Florinell Francis, a niece of Miss Tennessee Malone, Librarian of this school. Miss Francis is an ex-student of W. T. and received her M. A. from the University of California, and is at present a member of the Library School faculty of the University of Illinois.

Owing to her connection with the library here Miss Anderson was able to leave before graduation. Before returning she visited the southern Mississippi Valley. Miss Anderson returned June 8, via Memphis, Tennessee, Jackson, Mississippi, New Orlenes, Lousiana, and San Antonio, Texas.

Hereford Farmer Completes Cow Testing Program

Lester Galley of Hereford has just completed a six months cow testing program with his herd in co-operation with the department of agriculture of the College.

Mr. Galley has seventeen cows in his dairy herd. He has sent milk samples to the laboratory at Canyon regularly and a record has been kept of the tests. Mr. Galley hopes to eliminate from his herd the cows which are not profitable and bring the herd up to a high production standard. The testing has been supervised by Professor Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department of the College.

The American peanut crop comes from the South, but the crop of peanut politicians is not restricted to any particular section.

Bowman Returns As Instructor of Home Economics

Since 1929, Miss Ferne Bowman of Canyon has been teaching Home Economics in Syracuse College at Syracuse, New York and at Elmira College at Elmira, New York. However, this summer, Miss Bowman has returned to Canyon to be an instructor in her Alma Mater. She received a B. S. degree here in '28 and an M. S. from the University of Chicago, in '29.

Miss Bowman relates interesting details and incidents about Elmira College, a beautiful place where she has really enjoyed teaching. It is the oldest woman's college in the United States and was the first college to grant B. A. degrees to women which were recognized as being equivalent to the B. A. degree granted to men from men's colleges. In 1930 this college celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary, at that time granting an honorary degree to Mrs. Herbert Hoover. This year Mrs. Hoover visited the different departments of the college and planted a tree on the campus.

While there Miss Bowman studied water color painting under the French artist, Olyphant. Interesting points around Washington and New York lured Miss Bowman to make a tour including New England and the Southern portion of Canada.

SCENES IN THE PALO DURO CANYON

The Palo Duro Canyon

"The Scenic Wonder of Texas"

The Palo Duro Canyon is known as the "Scenic Wonder of Texas." Truly it is a scenic wonder. Nowhere within the borders of the Lone Star State can be found any other unusual handiwork of nature that touches the magnitude of the beautiful Palo Duro Canyon, which wends its way across the broad Plains of the Texas Panhandle for a distance of more than 60 miles. It offers scenery excelled nowhere in this wonderful Southwestern section of the country.

Tucked away from the beaten path of public travel, the colorful portions of this canyon have revealed amazing wonders to those who have come in contact with it in the years gone by, but to the outside world little is known and few people can imagine that anything such as the Palo Duro exists. Because of its secluded position few peole actually know of the amazing and awe inspiring grandeur of this scenic wonder. Its beauty is beyond description. The pens of poets and the brushes of artists have all failed to cover the beauty of the Palo Duro fully and accurately. Its grandeur is comparable with the Grand Canyon and its colors with the Painted Desert.

For many years the land on either side of the scenic portions of the Palo Duro Canyon has been a cattle range, and cattlemen, with few exceptions have excluded visitors from the canyon. This accounts to a very large degree for the lack of wide-spread knowledge and interest in such a natural scenic wonder.

In the spring of 1931 a move was started to open at least a small place somewhere along the Palo Duro in order that the public might at least visit and have an opportunity to view the beauty of the canyon, as few such places were accessible and at these few points a fee was charged.

The Amarillo and Canyon Chambers of Commerce united efforts and secured a lease on some land at a very desirable point on the canyon. A good highway was opened to it and on May 17, 1931, it was officially opened to the public as the Palo Duro Free Park. This park is 13 miles due east of the icty of Canyon and the public is afforded an opportunity to get a glimpse of the possibilities of the Palo Duro Canyon, should it be converted into a state or national park.

Since its opening the park has proven to be very popular. Over 20,000 people were present for the opening day and since then over 39,000 more visitors have registered. Among the visitors registered during the first 12 months the park was open thare were representatives from 43 states and 9 countries.

The city of Canyon is recognized as the gateway to the Palo Duro Canyon. The only highway leading to the brink of the canyon is from this place. This highway connects the park with state and national highways at Canyon. More than 600 acres of land along the edge of the canyon is open free to visitors at this time.

The motive back of the establishment of the Palo Duro Free Park has been to arouse a statewide interest and demand for a State Park System in Texas. Not only does Texas have such a wonder of nature as the Palo Duro Canyon, but there are numbers of other beauty spots that would make attractice parks and yet Texas is without a State Park System.

The Palo Duro Canyon presents an opportunity unusually interesting to students in geology. Its unusual formations are indeed striking. The very existence of the canyon itself offers a rare study of natural formations. The varied formations, queer shaped rocks, rugged grandeur, peaks, etc., together with the colorful soils are amazing. Twenty-eight different shades and colors of soil are to be found in the canyon. Included in this array are such delicate colors as pink, orchid and lavender. Such contrasts of soils with the varicolored foliage presents a sight beautiful to behold.

Amateur paleontologists have a ground rich in prospects for fossils and prehistoric remains. Petrified wood is found in numerous sections of the canyon. Shark's teeth and innumerable small fossil finding have been discovered by amateur paleontologists, and many believe that as such work and the interest in it increases in the future, findings of much value to students of scientific research will be uncovered in the Palo Duro Canyon. It is also rich in Indian lore.

During the past few years, much interest has been aroused among nationally known artists and several of them have visited the Palo Duro Canyon. Its beauty is so striking that their love of art and beauty has forced them to paint several scenes. Although such work has been beautiful, they have all failed to do justice to its beauty.

Many among the thousands of visitors to the Palo Duro Park have been high in their praise of the Palo Duro Canyon, comparing it with the wonders of the Grand Canyon. A recent visitor, Mr. R. C. Morrison, city forester of Fort Worth, who was touring West Texas in the interest of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce beautification program, was greatly surprised to find that such a scenic attraction as the Palo Duro Canyon could be seen in Texas.

"When such as the Palo Duro can be seen at home, why is it necessary for citizens of Texas to travel thousands of miles into other states in order to have an enjoyable scenic vacation trip? Why not spend it at home in Texas, by visiting the scenic attractions in our own state?" were some of the questions asked by Mr. Morrison. Following his visit to this section, Mr. Morrison wrote an article published in a West Texas magazine discussing the scenic spots of West Texas and said concerning the Palo Duro Canyon, "Some of the outstanding and impressive characteristics of West Texas seen by the writer included . . . The Palo Duro Canyon, surpassing in beauty and exquisiteness of color of the Grand Canyon."

Gus Schreiner of Kerrville, Texas, a member of the State Game Commission on a recent visit to the Palo Duro Canyon declared that it is the greatest scenic attraction in Texas and should be classed with the outstanding attractions of the nation. "It is the nearest approach to the Grand Canyon of anything in the United States. The Palo Duro is a scenic spot that should be preserved," were some of his statements.

Both the need and demand for state parks in Texas are great and it is only by a means of education that our own Texas people will come to know of the beautiful scenic spots we have in Texas. It is only by proper education of our citizens that the aim of a State Park System for Texas will be accomplished. This can come from an intelligent and thoughtful study of our own natural resources and a comparison of these with those in other states, as well as a comparison of the use being made by other states regarding their natural resources and scenic attractions.

From a commercial viewpoint Texas would profit greatly by such a system of state parks. Thousands and thousands of dollars leave the state each year, when our citizens go to other sections of the nation to view well known beauty spots. These dollars, or at least a large portion of them could be spent at home if we only had parks to visit. Also many thousands of tourists could be attracted to the state from the Northern and Eastern states, which would mean many thousands of dollars spent in Texas annually, increasing the profits of Texas business firms and adding to the state revenues thru the gasoline tax.

Wayside Items

Indications are good for rain, this Monday afternoon. But little has fallen in a long while.

Quite a few are harvesting. A number of combines have been humming for some days. Yield and grain are light, also the price.

No hail near Wayside that we know of. In places we learn quite a loss of wheat. Some have lost chickens and turkeys.

Nellie Graham of Albuquerque, New Mexico, came in last week and will spend the summer with her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Payne and family.

Miss Elizabeth Jameson of Canyon spent the week-end in the W. I. Lane home.

Mrs. Ruth Childress and five children returned to her home on South Plains, Saturday, after a two weeks visit at the paternal Franklin home.

Wm. Payne and family from Dalhart spent the week end with relatives in and near Wayside. They returned Sunday afternoon. He expects to return Tuesday to help in the harvest.

Paul Spann, wife and baby are at the parental Spann home. Mrs. Spanns' health is poor.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McNeil of Archer City spent part of last week in the paternal M. L. McGehee home returning Monday.

"SIX CYLINDERS NO MORE—NO LESS," says America

Anything more and you sacrifice economy—anything less and you sacrifice smoothness. . . .

BUYERS everywhere are comparing low-priced cars. Lifting hoods. Counting cylinders. And the result? An overwhelming verdict for the six, in preference to cars of fewer or more cylinders.

"SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less!" And America backs up that conviction by purchasing more six-cylinder Chevrolets since January 1st, than the combined total of all fours and all eights under $1000.

With more than six cylinders, you sacrifice Chevrolet's famous economy of gas, oil and upkeep—the greatest economy in today's motor car market. With less than six cylinders, you sacrifice the built-in smoothness that makes driving really restful and enjoyable.

But with a six—a Chevrolet Six—nothing is sacrificed. You get smoothness and economy.

And power, 60 horsepower. And speed—65 to 70 miles an hour, easily! And pick-up—from a standstill to 35 miles an hour in less than 7 seconds! You also get Free Wheeling; Syncro-Mesh gear-shifting; big, spacious Fisher bodies.

So, when buying a new low-priced car, settle the question of cylinders RIGHT, and you can't go WRONG. Take America's word for it: "SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less!"

Gravel Company Gives Materials To Aid Museum

The Western Sand and Gravel Company of Amarillo has made a substantial donation of material to be used in the construction of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum.

S. F. Sullenberger, who is president of the company stated that his company wished to have a part in the building of the museum and that this gift of materials was possible to them at this time.

Mr. Sheffy was much pleased with this contribution and stated that he was sure that many similar donations would be made. Mr. R. A. Terrill, who is working with students on the museum proposition states that much work will be donated when construction gets under way. He says that many who cannot give money at this time have expressed a desire to share in this undertaking through their work.

Palo Duro

engaged in promoting the park project from a state standpoint as well.

"Yet the fact remains that the number who are acquainted with the scenic beauties of the Palo Duro Canyon and with the possibilities of the region for development as a public playground is still limited. For instance, the other day the director of the national park system, Horace M. Albright of Washington, passed thru Amarillo on his way to inspect some national parks in other Southwestern states. He is reported to have expressed surprise at the size and beauty of the canyon and regretted that he had not been adequately informed earlier. Mr. Albright declared he would order an immediate official survey of the canyon region as a proposed national park.

"The beauties of the Palo Duro Canyon are enhanced by its location in a region generally marked by the absence of landscape variety. For this vast region it affords the most convenient resort where scenes of natural beauty may be enjoyed. Its preservation and development as a national park would increase the pleasure of many thousands of this and future generations."

Unknown Palo Duro

(From Amarillo Daily News)

When Mr. Horace M. Albright of Washington, director of the National Park System, was in Amarillo the other day he expressed surpise at the size and beauty of the Palo Duro Canyon. He didn't know we "had anything like that down here in the Panhandle," to use his own words after seeing the beauties of the canyon. It goes to show that while some mighty fine work has been done toward advertising the Canyon so far as the country as a whole is concerned Palo Duro is not on the list of beauty spots.

It was fortunate that Mr. Albright saw Palo Duro for he announced that he would order an immediate survey made with a view toward proposing a national park. All the loyal boosters of Palo Duro must keep the good work going; the day eventually will come when the public as a whole will be afforded the opportunity of enjoying Palo Duro Canyon, but the objective should be to make the date as near in the future as possible.

"The Palo Duro Canyon has received much favorable publicity during the past several weeks," states Fred E. Wortham, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

A canyon scene appeared in the rotogravure section of the Denver Post for Sunday, June 19. Walker's Real Estate Journal published at Turkey, devoted a page to the Palo Duro Canyon in its June issue. Wednesday morning a request was received by the Chamber of Commerce for five copies of any material available on the Palo Duro Canyon, be sent to the Texas University Extension Loan Library.

July 4 Commemorates Many Events Linked With Liberty Cause

IT was the Declaration of Independence that set apart the Fourth of July as a day of historical and patriotic significance. But other events associated with the cause of freedom, and happenings which have influenced history in the United States and abroad, occurred on this greatest of America's holidays to make it a day fraught with the deepest interest and importance everywhere.

It was on July 4, 1636, for instance, that Roger Williams established the city of Providence, R. I., to provide freedom of religious thought for dissenters of the Massachusetts Bay colony sect. It was the spirit that moved this high-minded seeker after personal liberty that, 140 years later, urged our forefathers to seek liberation from the British yoke.

It was on July 4 1826 that two men who had played vital roles in the founding of the country passed away. They were John Adams, second president of the United States, and Thomas Jefferson, who succeeded him in that high office, and who wrote the declaration itself 50 years before.

Of totally different personalities, both Adams and Jefferson contributed in great measure to the early stability and development of the United States. It was Adams, incidentally, who predicted the deep veneration with which Independence Day would be observed by American citizens, and who by his statement set the course of its celebration.

It does not occur to the present day Fourth of July celebrator, shooting off his firecrackers or watching a baseball game, that these methods of observing the great holiday were germinated by Adams. But history has recorded his view that " It (July 4) ought to be solemnized with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward evermore."

• • •

AGAIN, it was the fourth day of July, 1831, which marked the passing of a man who, more than any other had to do with preservation of the liberties of our foreign republics. He was James Monroe, fifth president of the Unite States, whose name identifies the document which established so much of America's foreign policy.

This document, though termed by some an "imperialistic gesture," has been generally recognized as a bulwark of freedom in the western hemisphere.

It was on the American Independence Day that Giuseppe Garibaldi, later to become an American citizen, and then one of the liberators of Italy, was born in 1807, in the little Riviera town of Nice.

July 4 marked important battles in two American wars: the surrender of Vicksburg in the Civil War, and the defeat of Admiral Cervera's Spanish fleet off Santiago, Cuba, in the Spanish-American War. And three famous Americans born during the crackle of Independence Day celebrations were Nathaniel Hawthorne, one of the geniuses of American literature, Joseph Pennell, the great American artist, and Calvin Coolidge, the 30th president of the United States.

It is small wonder, therefore, that the Fourth of July, having so many diverse claims to fame in history, heads in importance all American holidays and commands the respect of people everywhere throughout the world.

One of the professors at Sycracuse learned last week that the father of one of his pupils is a famous Chicago gangster.

He learned it when the parent dropt into the town to visit his son. The youngster brought the father around and introduced him to the instructor, and the three chatted pleasantly for a while, the Chicagoan expressed appreciation for the help and attention given his boy.

Upon leaving, he drew the professor to one side.
